AIR CONDITIONING/HEATING
The residence buildings are on central chilled water systems, which are adjusted to provide the maximum comfort for all rooms and areas.

Les Prince Hall
Press the top of the panel to flip open. The room temperature can be controlled by the fan speed on the left and temperature control knob on the right. If the room becomes too cold lower the fan speed or shut off completely. If the room is too warm adjust temperature selector knob to a cooler range and turn on the fan to desired speed. It is suggested that when leaving the room to leave the fan unit on low speed in cooling mode so the room is comfortable upon your return.

Mary E. Keyes Residence
Bedrooms in Mary E. Keyes Residence are controlled by thermostats located in the “B” and “C” bedrooms. The “B” bedroom thermostat controls the A and B bedrooms and part of the living room and kitchen area. The “C” bedroom thermostat controls the C and D bedrooms and the remainder of the living room and kitchen areas. Please adjust to your comfort level.

Hedden Hall
Please adjust fan speed to your comfort level.
